

The Pea Patch Jig by Thacher Hurd

In The Pea Patch Jig by Thacher Hurd, Baby Mouse saves the family by hitting the fox with a pea and scaring him away. Here is an updated version of Pin the Tail on the Donkey. Instead of a tail, cut out the peas and put double-sided tape on the back of the peas. Put a blindfold on the child who is "it". Turn the child around until they are slightly dizzy and turn them towards the fox. Whoever gets their pea closest to the inner circle wins.

Our original idea for this activity was to shoot peas from a straw, but we do not want any children to choke on a pea so we are not recommending it. We will say that we had a lot of fun shooting peas from a straw. Be careful if you decide to try it!
